BIOGRAPHY

OF

Deacon Benjamin Judson

OF

Woodbury, Connecticut

With the names of his Descendants

BY

DR. F. E. WEEKS, Kipton, Ohio

Deacon Benjamin Judson was a direct descendant of William Judson, from whom all of the early American-born Judson families are supposed to have descended. Cothren's "The History of Ancient Woodbury" gives the history of William Judson and his son Joseph in the following words:

"William Judson came from Yorkshire, England, in 1634, with his family. He brought with him three sons, viz., Joseph, Jeremiah and Joshua. He lived four years at Concord, Mass., removed thence to Stratford, Conn., at its first settlement, in 1639, where he resided upon the southwest corner of a hill called 'Meeting House Hill.' He did not reside there long but went to New Haven where he died in 1660. He probably had a daughter living there.

Lt. Joseph Judson, eldest son of William, was fifteen years of age when his father came to New England. He lived with him at Concord, Mass., for four years, removed thence to Stratford, Conn., married in his 25th year, Sarah, daughter of John Porter of Windsor, she being then 18 years of age. He was a leading man in the early days of the colony, being frequently called to sustain the duties of public office. He died Oct. 9, 1690, and was buried in Stratford. His widow died March 16, 1696."

Joseph had a family of twelve children, of whom John, born Dec. 2, 1647, and died Jan. 12, 1709, was the second. He (John) was one of the signers of the "Fundamental Articles" for the settlement of Woodbury, Conn., and went thither with the first company.

He married, 1st., Elizabeth Chapman, 2nd. Hannah ——— ———, 3rd. Mrs. Mary Orton. He also had a family of twelve children, of whom Isaac was the tenth child and a son of the last wife.

Isaac was born June 3, 1700, and died May 14, 1789. He married, 1st, Elizabeth Hawley, 2nd, widow Rebecca Hollister, and had six children.

Benjamin, the fifth child and a son of the last wife, was born Feb. 17, 1735, and died Sept. 11, 1811. He married, 1st, Mehitable ————, 2nd, Anna Camp, 3rd, Lydia Murray. He had six children, of whom Benjamin (the subject of our history) was the fifth.

(1) Benjamin Judson was baptized October 21, 1770. He was chosen Deacon of the First Church of Woodbury August 31, 1806, and was thereafter known as "Deacon" Benjamin Judson. He married Esther Minor, daughter of Dea. Seth Minor, May 6, 1794. She died Nov. 14, 1868, at the age of 97 years.

Seth Minor was born Nov. 23, 1733, and died Nov. 5, 1820. He was a son of Ephraim Minor and Rebecca Curtiss. Ephraim was a son of Capt. John Minor, one of the leading citizens of Stratford and Woodbury. Capt. John was a son of Thomas Minor who came to New England in 1630. The name can be traced back to Henry Miner, the first of the name, who died in 1359.

Dea. Seth Minor married Eunice Root in 1757. She was a daughter of Joseph Root, son of John and Dorcas Root, who settled in Woodbury about 1685.

Deacon Benjamin Judson died of typhus fever May 15, 1820, at the age of fifty years. His children were as follows:

ISAAC JUDSON (2).

Isaac Judson bought a farm in Wakeman, Huron County, Ohio, in 1833 and lived there until 1841, when he sold the farm. He may have been induced to move there by reason of his acquaintance with some of the pioneer settlers of Wakeman who had moved from Woodbury, Conn., the birthplace of Isaac. Mr. Judson afterward lived in Oberlin, O., but died at the home of his son in Warrensville, O., after having lived in Cleveland.

ALBERT JUDSON (3).

Albert Judson graduated from Yale at the age of 23, studied Theology in New York, then commenced his public labors as an agent of the Sunday School Union and continued in its employ for several years. At that time no suitable text books for the assistance of teachers were published. He published the volumes "Judson's Questions" which became extensively used in this country and were re-published in England and were the means of giving an impulse to the cause of Sabbath Schools in that country beyond any work which had been published. In November 1832 he took pastoral charge of a church in Philadelphia where he resided until his death seven years later.

GOULD CAMP JUDSON (9).

Gould Camp Judson was graduated from Western Reserve University (now located at Cleveland, but at that time at Hudson, O.) in 1840 and finished his theological course at New Haven in 1842. After his marriage in that year he located at Grafton, Ohio. He served Congregational churches in northern Ohio until 1859 when he moved to the distant frontier at Viroqua, Wis., where he remained for two years. In 1861 he moved to North Walton, N. Y., where he lived for six years, then followed pastorates at Upsonville, Pa., and Windsor, N. Y. In 1875 he retired from active labors and spent the most of his remaining years at Vernon Center, N. Y. After the death of his son, Edward P., in 1899, he resided with his son Albert, but died at the home of his son William at South Auburn, Pa.

BENJAMIN JUDSON (10).

Benjamin Judson went to Ruggles township, Ashland county, Ohio, in 1840, where he followed farming and school teaching until 1851 when he moved to Oberlin, O., and a year later to a farm near Wakeman, O. In 1860 he moved to Henrietta, Wisconsin, settling on a tract of wild land, where he erected a log house and barn and cleared off the land. This farm was sold and another farm purchased in the same township, where he resides with his youngest son. He became a licensed preacher in the Advent church but later joined the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

In studying the history of the family of Deacon Benjamin Judson one cannot help noticing the strong religious element in the character of many of his descendants, many of them becoming ministers and some of the daughters marrying ministers. Mr. Judson himself showed his religious convictions by accepting the office of "Deacon." Three of his sons, Albert, Gould and Benjamin, became preachers, the daughter Achsa married a preacher and had three sons who became preachers. Gould's son Albert became a preacher.

Another inherited tendency in the family is the longevity of some of the children of Deacon Judson. His wife lived to the age of 97, while her father lived to be 87. Of Deacon Judson's children, Isaac reached the age of 97, Lucy 91, Achsa 95, Eunice 93 and Gould 93. Benjamin maintains the family characteristic, being at this writing, (April, 1914) in his 95th year.
